

Artist's portrait honours chef

A Norfolk entrepreneur and artist has created a portrait of the chef whose delicatessen he purchased, in appreciation of the work he has done.

John Atkinson, of Burston, who runs Fredrick's Fine Foods in Diss with his wife Juliette, said he felt it was fitting to produce a painting of the Michelin starred chef Freddie Jones, from whom he bought the business.

Mr Atkinson said: "Freddie established this business in 2007 and quickly developed a loyal following from gourmet food lovers.

"It was my way of showing some appreciation of his achievements in creating this unique, catering service."

The portrait of Freddie Jones, a Michelin-starred chef, by John Atkinson.